'Fastest Land Plane' Will Attack Speed Marks

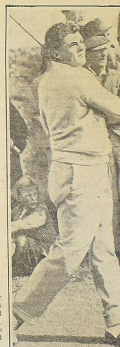

Called "the world's fastest land plane" by its designers, this odd barré-shapecraft, piloted by Cecil A. Allen, right, transatlantic flyer, will soon take off from Los Angeles municipal airport for an assault on an all-time speed record. The Owl No. 2, in this short, streamlined plane is known, has reportedly been flown 211 miles an hour in tests with and against the wind. Allen hopes to achieve 300 miles an hour without attempting to climb into the record stratosphere, and to gain the United States, in this hour. Designed by J. E. B. Gurney, the ship has a high speed engine rated at 1,000 miles, carrying 250 gallons of gasoline. It has been undergoing secret tests near Los Angeles.

Sea-Going Diana

ABOVE: What a fish story Baron Munchausen could have made out of Captain Earl Montague's adventure at Miami, Fla. As a corky Montague wrestled with a 900-pound sea turtle. The big corky proved that it is the darkest broody of the sea.

RIGHT: If you try Betty Jean Cook's system of fishing, you'll be telling about the big ones that get away — made arrow waves. The pretty Miami, Fla., man holds her "corky," a victim of her trusty bow and arrow. She learned the trick from the Indians.

LEFT: Francis H. Low's fish stories are about the big ones he catches. The 35-year old New York sportsman (right) and Captain Fred White (left) inside the 900-pound Mako shark Low caught off the New Jersey coast. Adding 150 pounds out away to release the hook, the shark is the largest fish ever caught on rod and reel.

He Built Model Aircraft, as Thou sands of Boys Do, and Now—VULTEE IS UNCHALLENGED AS WORLD'S GREATEST HIGH SPEED PLANE DESIGNER

Fastest Transport Ship Is Born of Glider Idea

BY ESKRINE JOHNSON
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

GLIDERIDE, Calif. July 8.—If you know a lad who will build model airplanes, don't think of him as a boy. He is a Vultee.

Twenty years ago, Gerald P. Vultee, then only 12, was building a finer glider of wood and cloth, than the model had developed into the world's fastest transport airplane.

Vultee was just a kid experimenting with kites to build the particular model as part of his interest in aeronautics at the California Institute of Technology.

Today, a New York power engineer and a naval air officer, Vultee is designing.

eradication.

Monday morning to a group of some thirty-five farmers of the township of Marjona. The group was met by the Ontario Government. The good council paid for the manure and Mr. Dix, Government Weed Inspector for the township of Marjona, was in attendance.

The demonstration was held by Mr. James Thornley's farm. Mr. Thornley has been able to find a place for it. Mr. Thornley has evidently spent a great deal of time in raising such a quantity of weeds, he has a great County, used a power sprayer combat the wild carrot and weeds along the highway. The first year it was used it was a complete coating in the height of the weeds. The following year it was used it was a good deal less. The second year it was used at the end of the third year the cost of spraying was $150 a mile to the majority of the weeds be killed out. With the new sprayer they are capable of costing us less than a day. The cost of cutting them out is about $100 a mile for two cuttings, therefore spraying costing $60 for material save 100 per cent results in a year whereas the cutting was plantain, and many others.

Many others. The tennis court back of the garage has been the best crop of chickory that I see in the township. Mr.
Stevens put up a great deal of manure last fall, and it has been most masterful, however, when manured upon and said
could kill the whole—

Experiment Station at Ames-

In killing mustard it was found that the plants were killed to any great degree. The results were 95 to 100 per cent. The mustard seeds for 20 pounds of the mustard to 100 pails of water, in which they were soaked for 24 hours. Mr. Stevens said that to his way of thinking mustard should never have to be gotten with mustard as they had in note in the district now.

The mustard seed is to be killed by the use of sodium chloride to its expense it is to be placed by Sodium Chlorate.

Sodium Chloride
The chemical used in the demon-was Sodium Chloride, there was about 12 gals. mixed which was sufficient enough to use 12000 lbs. This mixture is used in places where there is on danger of hazard, otherwise it is mixed with water for pound with Calcium Hydroxide, the two making combination. It is highly important that the use of Sodium Chloride allowed in any one's clothing, either in heat or to be rubbed would immediately burst in flame. Stevens then gave a demonstration of the heat generated by the use of Sodium Chloride.

Community Sprayer

Mr. Stevens suggested that farmers of the district buy the selves a small community sprayer which would cost them in the neighborhood of $60. They would, however, have to be careful in use of this chemical as it ruins leather and clothing. In case Mr. Stevens said that he would turn in a short time and any water left would be immediately taken care of.

Mr. Stevens then closed his tion burned. He placed a quantity of the powder in an ordinary tobacco tin and set fire to it. Owing to the humidity of the weather in the neighborhood of the mine, the experiment wasn't as successful as it might have been.

cleaning up. If sprayed young bushes, flowers and trees, it is sure to kill them. Though trees bearing fruit are harmed. The chemical, however, is not injurious to people or some districts, this was not the case in other parts of the county.

Two Hillhead farmers had been damaged. A log barn on the farm of Mr. George Reeds was blown down. Fortunately this barn was only used as an implement shed and no implements were damaged.

the chemical sprayed the doing of which took an hour. Dix then gave a short talk to the farmers on the co-operation of the farmers with the weed inspector in order that the township soon be cleared of weeds. M. H. Winter, of the Dept. of Agriculture of Lindsay, then addressed the gathering, paying a tribute to Mr. Dix for his good work. He then asked Mr. Stevens to say a few words to the gathering. These were done.

Stevens stated that he was to be here because it was a rare to work with such men as Mr. Winter, and Mr. Dix and he stated that it had been to his attention that these men were the best in Ontario.

The Noxious Weed Act of 1900 was necessary to prevent the spread of weeds. This act, 15 years ago was known as the Canadian Thistle Act, but due to the fact they had to make it much more severe due to the fact that there

Some $25,000,000 lost in the

Off to Make North China Safe for Japan

While diplomatic tension between Japan and Russia increased as a result of Soviet complaints about "invasion" of the territory along the Manchukuo border, Japanese warriors continued to pour troops into the territory along the Great Wall of China. Amid a series of military, purely, happy Japanese troops are shown leaving Tokyo enroute to North China, from which the Nanking government has been forced to withdraw its army.

MILBROOK, July 17.—(Staff Correspondent.)—Mrs. Malcolm McDowell and daughter, Miss Dorothy McDowell, were the hostesses to the Women's Missionary Society of the Andover church, which was held at the home of Mrs. McDowell, Sunday.

Over thirty members of the society were present, and the evening was spent in singing, prayer, and the reading of the Bible.

The women of the society were very much interested in the work of the society, and the evening was a very successful one.

That would be, he felt, the best way to proceed.

On the other hand, there had been real success in biology and gift of the people and in the field of agricultural principles had played their part, mainly because the activities were extra-curricular and conducted in the realistic atmosphere of the field.

A Few Words to You
About the C. N. R.

During 1934 the average number of persons employed by Canadian National Railways was 74,474, and wages paid them came to almost one hundred million dollars. This represented, both as to number employed and amount of payroll, an advance over 1933 and practically the whole increase in personnel was due to re-employment of those whose services had previously been dispensed with owing to lack of business.

The average mileage of road operated in 1934 was 23,676 miles, making Canadian National Railways the largest single railway system in the Western Hemisphere.

In 1934 the total freight transported by Canadian National Railways amounted to 44,719,477 tons, an increase of eighteen per cent over the previous year. The average haul of freight was 226 miles. The value of this freight is not ascertainable, but it is estimated that it was worth over one hundred million dollars, and comprising all kinds of necessities and luxuries, contributed to the welfare and happiness of every man, woman and child in the Dominion.

Canadian National Railways carried over 10,000,000 passengers during 1934. This was also an increase over 1933. These paid in fares $16,531,529, or an average of 81c per passenger with an average mileage of seventy-one and three-quarter miles.

These figures, without embellishment or amplification, show the vastness of the public services rendered by Canadian National Railways. The fact that the Canadian National is a scale as is consistent with the highest standards of railway operation. The improvement in business in 1934 over the previous year enabled more people to be employed; more money was paid; more service to be rendered. Also, more money was available to be spent among Canadian producers and Canadian mechanics.

A continuation of this improvement in our business will carry on and enlarge these good results... the whole country will benefit. This year Canadian National Railways has been engaged in an extensive movement to diminish unemployment and to restore industrial activity... to help banish the depression and bring better times for every citizen.

Canadian National Railways feels justified in asking for your co-operation. A greater use by Canadian citizens of the facilities offered by this system—transportation, express, mail, telegraphs, hotels—will help the C. N. R., but all Canada... and you will receive full value for every dollar spent.

During the present Summer season the C. N. R. is providing special fares and excursions between points throughout Canada. There are many ways in which you can enjoy the summer months. The C. N. R. agent will be glad to give full particulars.

Rich Boyish Rajah Sets Frugal Example $1725 Brings 'Diamond' Domicile

TRAVANCORE RULER'S INTEREST IN BRIGHT LIGHTS IS HYDRO-ELECTRIC

India's amazingly rich native princes have passed on parade through Milton Bennett's six colorful stories of "The Riches of Rajah" written for the Daily Post. This is the last article.

BY MILTON BENNETT
SEA Service Staff Writer

RAJA RAMA RAJA YAMMA, Maharajah of the Indian state of Travancore, is not only one of the wealthiest of reigning native princes, but also one of the richest. But someone to Arabian Nights tales of fantastic wealth and fantastic spending of oriental luxury and oriental splendor, are ever told about this boyish monarch, rather different youth of 23. They are so told for the reason that he does not give cause for the telling of them.

In fact, the Maharajah happens to be one of the most serious-minded of all the native princes. He occupies a large part of the revenues of the state upon schools and hospitals. He broke precedents which extended back 1800 years when, in 1925, he was the first ruler of Travancore to cross the great sea and visit England.

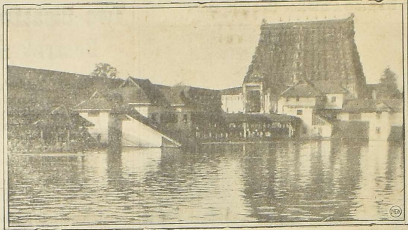

Simple Mode of Life Disappoints

London

If the London hotel men and shop keepers expected a rich harvest as a result of the visit, they were disappointed. His retinue was small, his tastes simple and his wants few. He showed himself more anxious for solid information than for the white light and name. He spent a lot of his time studying economic questions at first hand and visited many modern factories.

His life at home is quite as simple. He lives quietly in a rather modest palace with his mother, brother and sister. His mode of being is more like that of a well-to-do English gentleman, although, like many other Indian princes, he will not break bread with Europeans. It is said he has revolutionized the idea that he can make him.

One of the things that make him

The Swami Temple towering above his palace and bathing tank at Trivandrum symbolizes the importance of religion in the life of the Maharajah of Travancore.

origin is the method of his inheritance of the throne. For centuries the ruling house of Travancore has given a peculiar kind of inheritance of the throne is not from father to son, but from the ruler to the son of his sister. The Maharajah's marriage is, therefore, of no dynamic importance as all because some of his children can inherit the power. The Maharajah's son and the Maharajah's father are both in the position of being merely subjects of the ruler.

Must Adopt Sister If He Has None

If the ruling Maharajah has no sister, or if the one child, male or female, is not his sister, he has to adopt a girl as his sister. For instance, the late Maharajah was Rama Varma the Fourth. He therefore adopted an sister two girls who were members of the family to which the ruler belonged. They became the Senior and Junior Maharajaw. Both married. The Senior had only daughters. The Junior had two sons, the elder of whom became the present Maharajah. But during his infancy the Senior Maharajah and his mother acted as regent.

One of the results of this importance of women in the ruling house is that women have in Travancore a higher status in many ways than in most of India. Literacy among Travancore women is 71 per cent, compared to 2 per cent in India as a whole. Furthermore, women are on equal with men, both in the vote and eligibility to election to various municipal bodies and to the Travancore Legislature.

The present ruler was carefully educated by an English tutor and was installed as ruler in September, 1924, when he was 12 years old. During the ceremony, which was of a civilian character, he put on a simple royal throne, used for this purpose for centuries. Over his head flew a banner presented to Travancore by Queen Victoria in 1877. There was no religious ceremony as the ruler is deemed to hold his position merely as the steward of the god Padmanabha to whom the state was dedicated centuries ago.

Came Into Power In 1922, When 10

After the civilian ceremony, at which the British Agent stood upon the boy's head the gorgeous vest, jeweled cap befitting the sovereignty, the lad went to the temple of the state god. Here he spent the rest of the day in prayer.

There were his celebrations in 1922, when he came officially of age and ruled in his own name instead of through the regency of the Senior Maharajah. He walked barefooted and with head and most of his body uncovered from the palace to the temple of the god. Here he received the holy waters and worshipped for some time. Then, accompanied with flowers, he walked from the temple to the state treasure house where the precious state jewels were formally turned over to him as his property. To celebrate his real advent to the throne, he gave $20,000 to feed the poor.

The state over which he rules is at the southern tip of India, bounded by sea and mountains. It is about the size of Wales and has 5,000,000 people of whom 66 per cent are Hindu in religion, 20 per cent Christian and 7 per cent Muslims. This large Christian population in a native Indian state also makes it unique. The Christians being mainly poor, the Roman Catholic and Syrian sect. The latter date way back to the 3rd century, legend having it that St. Thomas the Martyr made the first converts. There is not only great rivalry between the Hindu and the Christians but also between the two predominant Christian sects.

Unchangeable State's Black Spot

The country's rich in tea, rubber, pepper and palm and the enlightened young ruler is doing much to develop the advance of hydro-electric power. Moreover, he has given his state a very advanced form of legislative government.

But if Travancore is marked by its progress in education, the status of women and of government, it is on the other hand a dark spot on account of the rigidity of the Hindu caste system. Nowhere in India are its inequalities the extreme, tradition with more conservatism than in Travancore. In many cases the unfortunate are deemed to be the Hindu of the higher caste if they come within forty yards of them.

When Mahatma Gandhi some years ago started his famous campaign against untouchability, with characteristic boldness he came to Travancore, where the feeling on the subject on the part of the highest caste was the strongest. He preaching led to passive resistance and even rioting.

Latest innovation in the movement to create small and inexpensive homes for factory workers is this radically different small house which set diamond on a lot, with one corner facing the street. Just completed in Canton O., the house is constructed of fire brick, is insulated against heat and cold, and costs $1725, exclusive of the lot. A bathroom in the center of the building is surrounded by four standard sized rooms as shown in the floor plan below.

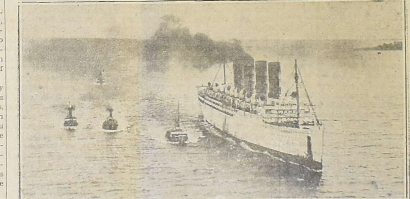

well and public places to the use, decisive step of recommending this to the legislative body.

How Pennsylvania Floods Added to Havoc Toll

As the waters of the worst flood since 1868 receded, eastern Pennsylvania counted a death toll of nine and property damage of more than $1,000,000. The onset of these summer deluges faced a difficult problem of reclamation, because they were torn from their foundations, swept down streams and smashed together on one of the submerged heads of Philadelphia Creek. In the foreground is a huge steel tank washed away from a sector station a half-mile distant.

The Queen of the Sea Descends Her Throne

The once proud liner Mauretania, which upheld British tradition as Queen of the Seven Seas, is due and ready for disaster, makes a last run today to Southampton, England. Lately center of use conducted her into port.

CONTINUOUS ALERTING PAYS

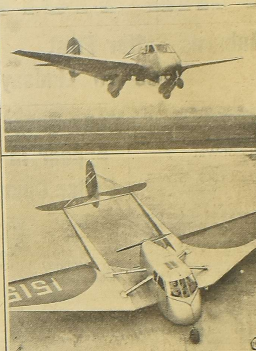

At Start of Record Flight Attempt

Giving the spectators a thrill at her take-off when her plane momentarily dropped back to the runway after starting to lift, Laura Ingalls, famous young flyer, moved away from Floyd Bennett airport, New York, to attempt a non-stop trans-continental flight. She's shown in the cockpit of the plane just before starting her effort to become the first woman to make the non-stop trip.

'Non-Nose Over' Plane Tested

A new "flier" monoplane, of the pusher type, which its designer claims cannot nose over, is shown here in two views, about to land at Wayne county airport, Detroit, shown below in a closeup. Designed by Dean Hammond of Ypsilanti, Mich., 15 of these ships have been built for bureau of air commerce and given exhaustive tests. The crash is of metal construction, with fabric-covered wings, and has surface area of 100 square feet. The air-cooled engine is mounted at the rear of the fuselage and the two rear landing wheels are behind the center of gravity.

Flyer Joins Caterpillars When Plane Crashes

When his gas ran out 5,800 feet above Goshute early today, Lt. William Hall, U.S.A., en route to Lake Mead, his military plane crashed over the ridge field from Grand Rapids, Michigan, "batted out" landing in a grain field half a mile east of the Goshute. Fortunately, with only a tail fin and a wing on the ground, the pilot was not hurt. He was rescued by a nearby ranchman and taken to a nearby hospital. The plane was destroyed.

Californian Schulmerich's Homers To Wrestle Account For Four Runs

Browning Ray Steele Replaces Gino Garibaldi In Match At Maple Leaf Gardens To Night.

Jim Morrison, former heavy-weight wrestling champion of the world, arrived in Toronto yesterday morning ready for a bout with Gino Garibaldi, a Italian rival. Before he had been here many hours the wrestling bout was off, and the wrestling was matched with Ray Steele of Cleveland, Ohio, for the Queensberry Club's feature at Maple Leaf Gardens this evening. Garibaldi disappeared from New York that a back injury prevented him from fighting his Toronto bout Tuesday night would prevent him from facing his Toronto opponent. The late Browning immediately announced his "cancelling out" although a telegram from Garibaldi's doctor confirmed the Italian's story. In any event, Pro-motor Jack Cavanaugh lost no time in securing another bout, and to the time he had matched Browning with Steele somewhat against the wishes of the ex-champion, he considered that he had a better match than the original one. Steele, who has not been here for more than a year, has been fighting in Toronto. To nine bouts at Maple Leaf Gardens, he has scored eight victories, including two over Garibaldi. George Zarkhan, John Paul Jones and Wile Willis have others he has beaten here. He will arrive early this morning from Detroit and should provide a very thorough bout for Browning.

The remainder of the card is unchanged with a semi-final between John Katan and Al Mercer followed by two good preliminary bouts. The probable winners of the westerns:

Bob Calahan, 24, Port Worth, Tex. v. Len Macaluso, 203, East Amherst, N.Y., one fall, 30 minutes time limit.
Dr. Freddy Meyers, 28, Chicago, v. Elmer Galtner, 20, one fall, 30 minutes time limit.
John Katan, 215, Winnipeg, v. Al Mercer, 210, St. Louis, one fall, 30 minutes time limit.
Jim Browning, 240, Vernon, Mo. v. Ray Steele, 220, Cleveland, one fall, two out of three falls, one hour time limit.

number days were the features of the Ontario's Tuesday evening program and every one voted the evening a great success.

Paul Jones was a big attraction at the Saturday night dance and everyone is becoming better acquainted. The college boys are a great improvement and the Orchestra is just splendid.

Joe Morrissey Drove In Pair of Markers In the Eighth to Tie the Score — Joe Vance Winning Pitcher.

BUFFALO, July 24.—The power of Wm. Mulvihill's big hit stood off the desperate challenge of the Bison to unseat the Maple Leafs from second place in the standings here this afternoon before a throng of 11,848 Sunday-day fans, and accounted for Toronto's 11-9 defeat. Mulvihill's seventh-inning home run came to account for four runs, scoring Paul each time, and the second circuit count came for the ninth inning of "Lefty" Jansen to provide the winning margin. Joe Morrissey also furnished a timely pinch single in the eighth to drive in the pair of markers that provided a tie score after the Bison hit twice in the ninth. The score appeared to be safe leads. The Bison selected twenty hits against Vance for the visitors.

Ten pitchers, evenly divided, and a total of thirty ball players appeared in the varied lineup, and here Joe Vance emerged with credit. He pitched a strong game, and to have the aid of "Whiskey" Hiller, one of the Toronto hurling staff, in holding Clete Curran, an injury-sweater of the herd, as he pitched with two and a half in the last half of the ninth. Preliminary Curran had swatted his previous seventh-inning home run with two on base, but he offered no aid to the visitors.

Curran revamped his lineup soon by sending Demaree to second base in place of Peacock and settling himself to permit Peacock to guard the right field territory.

Jail as in the other halves of the series, the Bison were fighting in three pitchers, who, seven years before he came back, approached the halfway mark, and there was

Head Bowed Before Conqueror Peiping Stolidly Accepts Fate's Latest Blow

BY LASELLE GILMAN

PEIPING, China, July 19.—There is no tracing of marching foot soldiers, but echoes around the city here, early, might reflect no truth of things, however, along Peiping's streets and crumbling walls, the Chinese farmer tells his head bowed, turned in the peace of the North China.

Yet the great, dark shadow over the Rising Sun flag has fallen over a venerable people and an ancient land, and its twisted fingers have stirred the dust on the mouldering Dragon Throne (left) in Peking's Forbidden City. The old capital of Cathay has quietly fallen before a new and victorious alien horde.

Today North China is actually, if not nominally, a rich addition to the growing Japanese Empire. The conquest of the Asian mainland by this little nation, which in September, 1931, with the blowing up of a railway track in the Manchurian province, has gathered momentum in the last four years.

Great Rebellions On

The grim invaders, encouraged by one victory after another, pressed their impetuous advance south and west into the treasure house of the Chinese Republic.

The so-called Three Eastern Provinces that comprised Manchuria were taken. The untold millions of Jehol and Chahar, bordering Mongolia, followed in rapid succession.

Japan moved on into Asia and her traders and merchants and railways followed until all Chinese territory south of the Great Wall passed into the Yankto race.

And now Japan's army has bitten off its first large chunk out of China Proper, south of the Wall. China's northern boundary today is the Wall. It is the Yellow River, "Asia for the Asiatics," which means "Asia for Japan."

It is rapidly becoming a reality.

The seizure of North China has effected very quiet, and on night says open policy. There was little or no fighting.

Japanese troops lifted the Great Wall and thrust at Peking on the north. There was no need to fight. The threat was enough and the Chinese army and the Chinese government fled before the invaders.

Efficient leaders meekly moved out and kept moving until they were south of the Yellow River.

Occupation Is Peaceful

Chinese police units were allowed to remain and North China became a Protectorate. The first step toward becoming part and parcel of Manchuria, the puppet state.

Reverend residents of Peiping, expecting possible siege and fighting, either fled to the south or prepared the ill-fated quarter for hostilities.

Nothing happened. A few Japanese planes soared over the crumbling city and disappeared. Overnight, Chinese control melted away. Peiping, which was a walled city, was taken.

Chinese business inside the walls fell close to zero. And, as still nothing happened, the anxious slow trickle came to a stop.
